Policy Statement:

The October 29, 2010, regulations effective July 1, 2011, include a provision that requires institutions to disclose, for each of their Gainful Employment (GE) Programs, certain information about the programs to prospective students.

GE Programs are any non-degree programs for which an institution awards a certificate or a diploma. Elim's Applied Ministry Certificate Program is not eligible for Title IV funds and therefore is not a GE program. Launch Certificate is considered an Embedded Program as more than half our students transfer to the AAS Program and therefore is not a GE program.
